

Captive & Insurance Management

A captive is an insurance company set up by its owners primarily to insure against its own specific risks. Organisations that have taken such a considered, strategic approach have reaped considerable rewards in reduced costs and improved coverage. Many international businesses have found that an insurance subsidiary is the best means of creating and administering a global risk management programme.

Unrivalled worldwide network

Aon is a world leader in captive and insurance management with over 1,200 clients representing 21 per cent of the market. We have more than 30 years of proven experience and work in almost every recognised domicile worldwide.

Our practice manages numerous Australasian-owned captives, and provides the administrative services to a large-scaled and complex Lenders Mortgage Insurer. We have an experienced management team in place to deliver integrated services that meet business needs.

We take pride in developing long-term relationships with our clients and passing on the benefits of cost effective management, using the latest technology and expertise. Aon will assist you to identify, assess, mitigate and finance complex risks.

Experts in captive management

Consultants experienced in a range of disciplines ensure that your risk exposure is better understood and managed. We offer creative solutions that are cost-effective and incorporate creative use of capital and other resources such as access to reinsurance markets and specialised insurance vehicles.

In an industry where understanding local practice and protocol is as important as good management, and where corporate governance and regulation is constantly shifting, Aon benefits from a knowledge base of nearly 500 staff drawn from all sectors of insurance and financial communities from many linguistic and cultural backgrounds. Our people inject a high degree of individuality, unique problem solving and innovation into the advice to and management of each captive insurance company.

Areas of specialty include:

- Captive feasibility studies
- Captive formation
- Captive and insurance management
- Quantitative modelling
- Financial modelling
- Health check and strategic consulting
- Relocation and liquidation of captives.

Aon takes its reputation as a top quality captive manager very seriously. We enjoy close and respected working relationships with regulatory bodies around the world. Through meticulous due diligence and review processes we add credibility to the companies we already represent or propose for approval.

Where confidence is key Aon is trusted to manage more captives than any other provider.

Our focus. You.

Aon has a specialist team who provides:

- Global leadership in captive management with over 1,200 clients representing 23 per cent of the market and more than 30 years of proven experience.
- An unrivalled worldwide network and access to 500 insurance experts providing you with resources and local knowledge.
- Assistance in identifying, assessing, mitigating and financing complex risks.
- Dedicated diverse processing centres, in multiple locations, offering cost benefits to you through efficient operating practice
- Standardised systems enabling us to serve you efficiently and continuously.

Our specialist team can help you

Kate Shum – Melbourne
m +61 415 140 777
e kate.shum@aon.com

aon.com.au