

Integrate your risk information

Aon eSolutions empowers businesses to achieve efficient risk management and loss control and enables the risk manager to advise the board on key risk performance with great confidence.

Risk data strategy

A corporate risk data strategy has the sole objective to empower the risk/insurance manager to drive the cost of risk down and support corporate risk awareness/management.

A detailed risk data strategy will equip your organisation with information to make strategic risk decisions in the following areas:

- Risk performance
- Loss and incident identification (Control Failure)
- Risk control effectiveness
- Required actions and treatments
- Risk financing
- Exposure identification and classification
- Cost of risk allocation

Aon RiskConsole

Aon RiskConsole is the premier global web based Risk Management Information System (RMIS) today. Its flexibility, ease of use and wide array of features helps your risk management program reach the next level. It has been developed from the ground up by combining in-depth risk consulting expertise and leading edge technology – allowing risk managers to address risk issues with greater efficiency and more control than ever before.

Accessed online, RiskConsole is easy to use and set up:

- Reduce data collection time (risk register, risk controls, losses/incidents/claims, exposures, policies, renewals, etc).
- Collect data from multiple systems and report in a consistent format.
- Enjoy better reporting and analytical capabilities.
- Access information 24/7 from any site with an internet connection.
- Get complete and reliable real-time data via best practice or personalized dashboards.
- Support a company wide risk management structure (communication and risk performance measurements).
