

Let Aon champion your business needs with SecurAcover

At Aon, we understand that it's your job to provide protection for others, so we want to make sure you have the right protection for yourself should things go wrong. Whether you're a locksmith, security guard, deal with cash in transit or work as a private investigator, we can provide insurance cover tailored specifically for the risks to your business.

As an ASIAL member, you can access SecurAcover, an exclusive insurance solution provided by Aon. We offer additional benefits for members, including discounted premiums through Liberty International and Errors & Omissions (E&O) cover at no extra cost.

Key benefits

Errors & Omissions

Does your security firm;

- Have an in-house design team and manufacture security products?
- Install and service security products
- Provide instruction and training in relation to the installation, application, storage or use of such security products?
- Provide a professional services (i.e. Static Guarding, Monitoring of Alarms)

If so, then you could be exposed to liability for pure financial loss suffered by your customer, as a result of making a mistake, a negligent act, error or omission.

Standard Public and Products liability policies in the market cover liability for injury and damages. This means that you may have no cover for pure financial loss.

Professional Indemnity policies are typically not available where the advice, design, supervision, specification services are provided for "no fee".

Aon's SecurAcover policy fills the gaps between a public and products liability policy and a traditional Professional Indemnity policy.

Loss of keys up to $250K

Cash in transit up to $250K

Aon has a team of insurance specialists who can provide advice on the right cover for you and your business. Trust the experts with over 30 years experience in security insurance.
