Whether you buy for sentimental or financial reasons – your valuables are an investment which you need to protect

Aon's fine art and collector's insurance policy is specifically tailored to cover high value items such as art, antiques, jewellery and collectables.

With Aon's fine art and collectors policy you get the benefits of:*

Expert knowledge.

An expert in providing insurance for antiques and fine arts, Aon is the only broker endorsed by both the Australian Antique and Art Dealers Association (AAADA) and the Australian Commercial Galleries Association (ACGA). We have a dedicated team of specialists who provide expert advice on insuring and managing fine art collections.

Specialist insurance.

Unlike standard homeowner policies, which have limitations on coverage for valuables, Aon's fine art insurance is designed specifically for art collectors and investors.

In addition to theft and fire, our specialist policy covers breakage of fragile items, as well as accidental and water damage. So regardless of whether it is a work of art, an antique or a precious piece of jewellery, you can be confident your investment is protected.

Worldwide and transportation coverage.

From a quick trip to the re-framers for your painting, to moving houses, your valuable items are covered 365 days a year anywhere in Australia or the world, depending on your individual needs.

For investment pieces, we even cover items while in storage, during transit and those displayed at external locations.

No limits on cover per item.

We allow you to specify the value of your pieces upfront, with no limits on individual items – this means you know in advance what you are entitled to in the case of a claim, ensuring no surprises at settlement time.

Cover for loss of value due to restoration.

Fine art is unique – it can't be replaced by a similar model and in the case of damage, a simple restoration does not return the art to its original value. With Aon, not only will you be covered for the cost of restoration – we will also compensate you for any subsequent loss in value.

Cover of new items.

With Aon you have the freedom to add and remove pieces from your policy. New items of up to 10% of collection value are automatically covered for 60 days and we can update your policy to reflect any changes within 24 hours of notification.

Proven claims service.

Aon has a proven track record of prompt and efficient claims service. Our experienced staff work on your behalf to ensure that claims are reported to the insurer promptly and efficiently.

Nil excess.

If you do need to make a claim, you'll be glad to know that under Aon's fine art policy there is no excess payable, which means you'll be covered for the full amount from the very first dollar.

One-stop-shop for your prestige insurance needs

In addition to providing best in class fine art insurance, we also offer prestige domestic coverage, offering you superior home and contents insurance with the convenience of a single provider.

As a leading Australian broker and long standing expert in the insurance of fine arts and antiques, Aon negotiates with a range of insurers on our client's behalf to provide the best available combination of price and cover, tailored to individual requirements.
